Christy, I suppose I should admit to having a crush on you as a freshman, but I won't. I've always wished I'd had a chance to really get to know the true C. Bergen but it always seems I'm too late. I'm looking forward to seeing you in the future, and I really mean that. Your beauty is only surpassed by your kindness and warmth, so always retain it.

Christi:

Well, we had a fun (?) year in typing, huh? All those frantic, last minute tries at getting my papers on Blaski's desk instead of in her trash can! I wonder if I ever actually typed a paper before the last five minutes of class!? Thanks for all your smiles around school! You're a beautiful person!

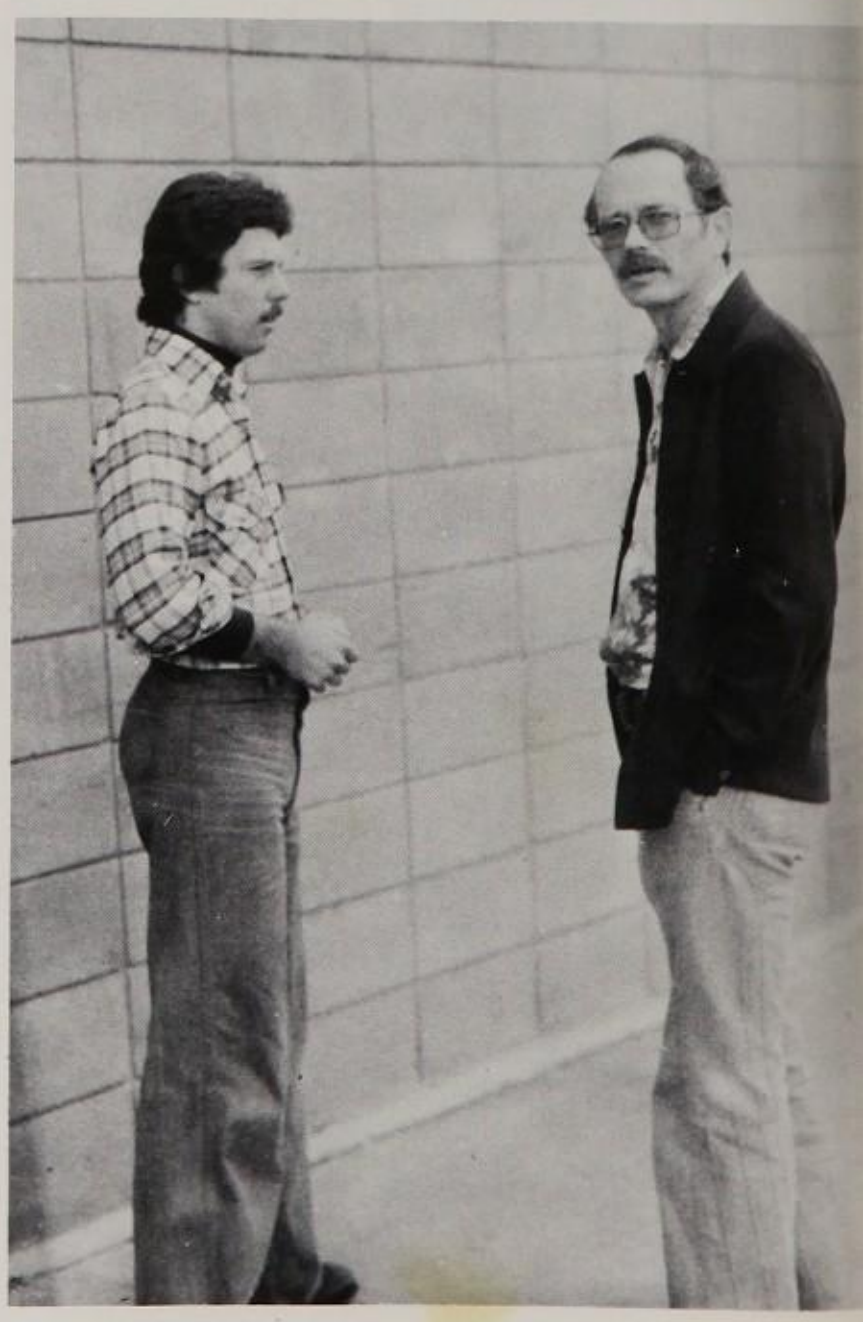
Down from the door



where it began.

Now far ahead the Road has gone

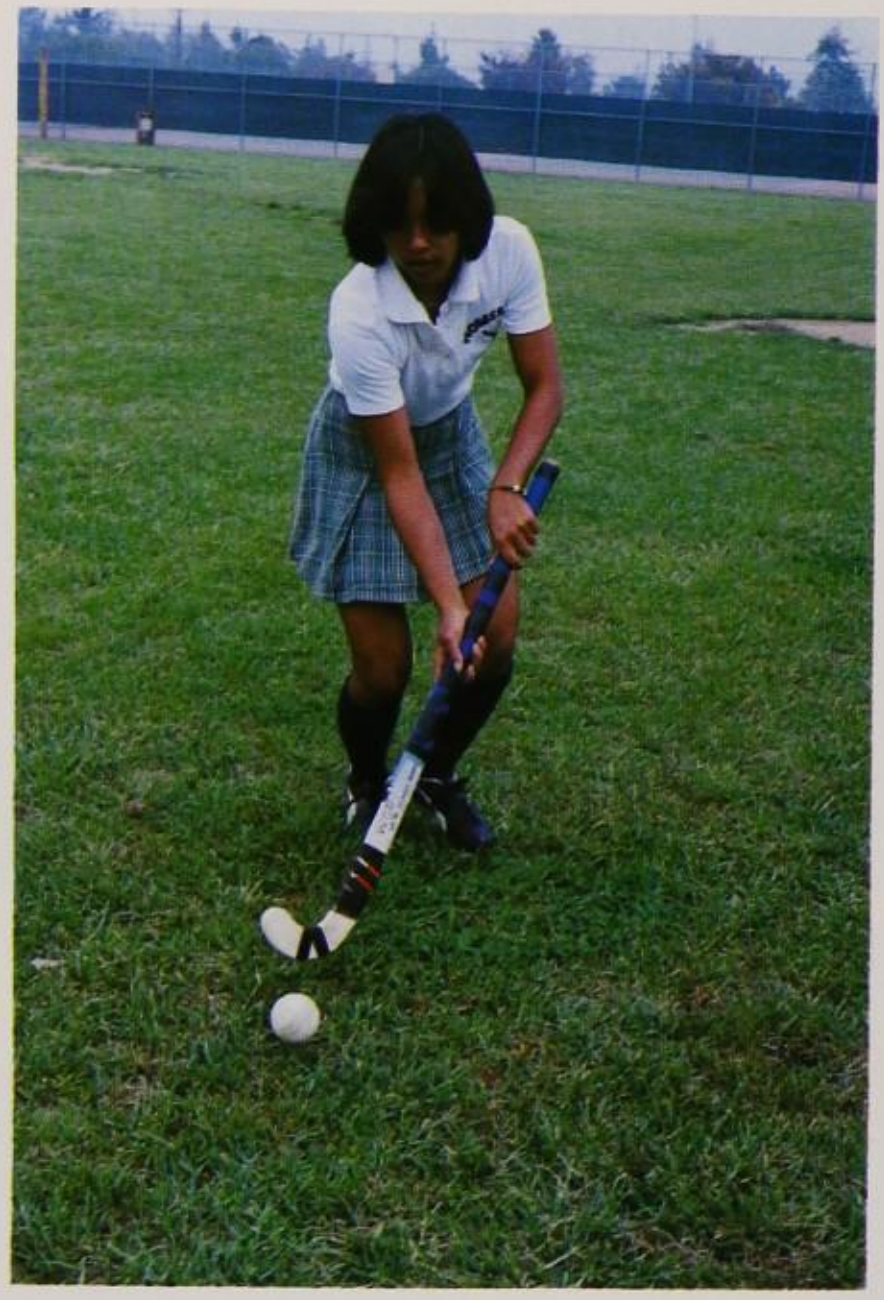
And I must follow,

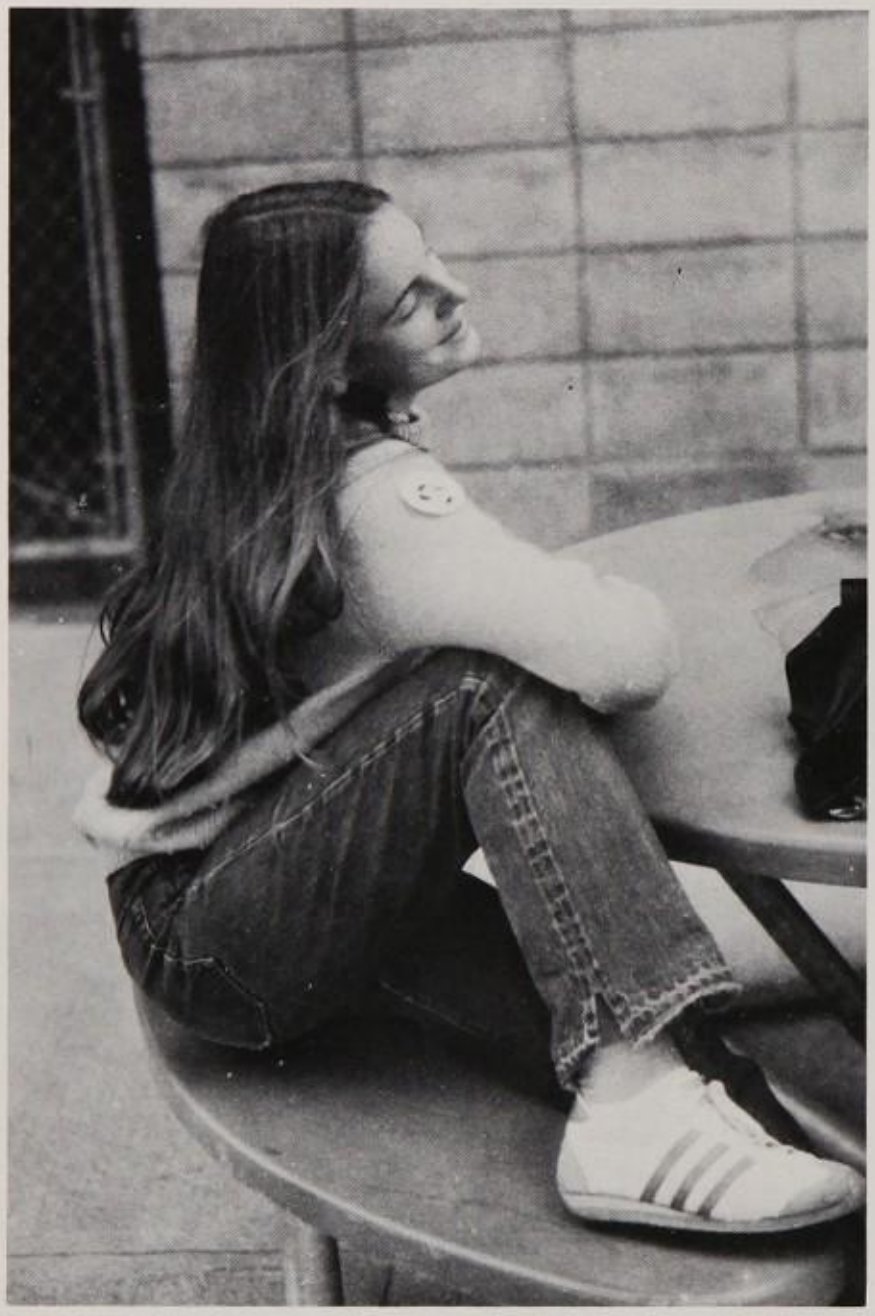
if I can,

Pursuing it



with eager feet,

Until it joins



some larger way

Where many paths

and errands meet.

And whither then? I cannot say.

Fighting from the underdog position was the hallmark of this year's varsity basketball season. The starting lineup for most of the season featured Frank Leonard, center; Thom Buchanan, forward; Jeff Daniel, forward; Craig Benner, guard; and Tom Richman, guard. In January the 1977-78 Mustang Hoopsters encountered a visiting Australian team in a surprise match. While both teams displayed much talent on the court, the Australians managed to out-play Homestead. With the experience gained this season the team should do quite well next year.

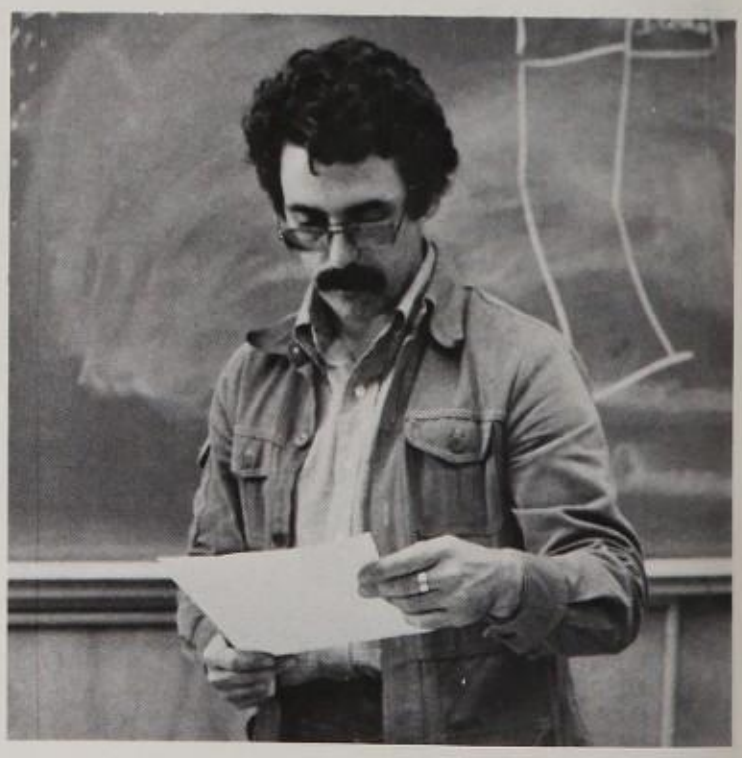
The CENTAUR is comprised of a group of young men and women whose common interest is the art of creative writing. This group meets irregularly in the fall and with earestness and purpose of clear intent in the spring to read and evaluate joyously and lovingly the creative written efforts of their fellow students. Occasionally, the staff creates too! The result of many arduous hours by the student staff is the yearly production of the CENTAUR.

Centaur



The luminescent aura breaks through my liquid amber at five a.m. to greet a crisp new day in quiet reflection of myself as pen goes to paper with ease; a star winks back.

J Pereira
24 Jan 78

Horse of a different color,
I think that's what they say.
He was a golden shade of yellow,
On that bright and sunny day.
I sat and rose upon him,
But we could'nt go too far.
As the light began to get dim,
I held tight to that swirling bar.
It always makes me smile
When I think about that sound,
Of the days when I was a child,
And those rides on that merry-go-round.

2nd boy:
"I want to tell them our poetry but I'm scared."
1st boy:
"Well, I'm not. I'm going right ahead."

The Curtain Call Players Present . .

This year the Curtain Call Players, a group formed by Drama II students, presented a series of one-act plays for the enjoyment of the student body. Among the plays presented were "The Importance of Being Earnest," "The Hundred and First," "The Wife of Bath" and "The Fifteeth Candle."

Christy
Short stories were great and I'm glad I made it through it. I really thought I wouldn't make it. Maybe it was you great test answers that pulled me through it. I thank you for that, but I still can't figure how I got a 45 and you a 40 and I copied you exactly. I always did want to meet you but never knew how or when. I guess the class took care of my problems, but too bad I didn't meet you sooner.
Maybe I'll see you this summer and good luck next year

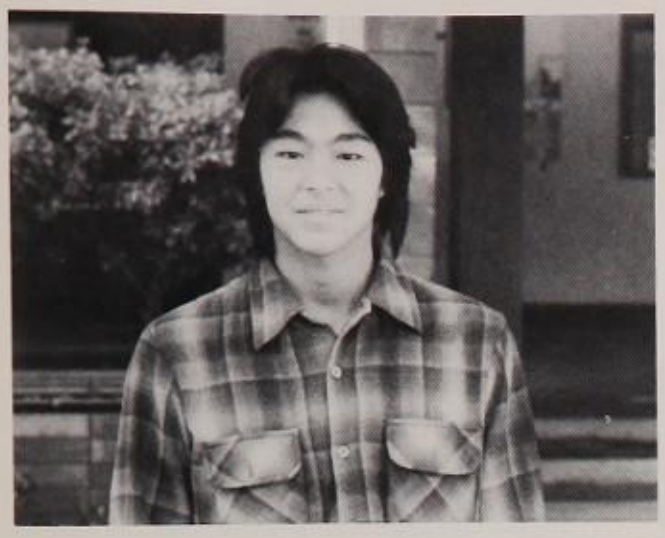
Foreign Exchange Students Speak Out



Hiroyuki Noto-Japan

I think that the U. S. is a very big, beautiful, and rich country. Everything seems to be bigger in comparison to Japan. Everybody here is very friendly and they seem to like to laugh a lot. I think that Homestead has too many students, but I like the fact that we do not have to attend school on Saturdays, which we do in Japan.

Geir Nilsson-Norway

I like Homestead because you can choose all your subjects yourself. Sports and music at school also make a school spirit that is rather unknown in Norway. The cities here (like Sunnyvale) also surprised me. They are very "spread out" and you never see people walking around in the streets like in Norwegian cities. I was also surprised at how inexpensive everything was. I would like to thank everybody at Homestead, teachers and students, for a great year here!

Maggie Siege-Osonski-Sweden

I think that California is a great place to live. I like Homestead very much and it makes my school in Sweden seem very dull in comparison. I like school here partly because of the great number of after school sports and activities, and I have become very fond of football. I only wish we had it in Sweden. I will always remember my year here at Homestead.

Nelson Villegas-Venezuela

Schools in my country are quite different from Homestead. Venezuelan schools are smaller than American schools, and consequently, there are fewer students in every classroom. In Venezuela the schools are stricter and we are allowed fewer electives. Discipline problems are rare and students must wear uniforms to school.
